

ALMOST OUT OF TAIL END.

LOUISVILLE NOW BUT THREE POINTS AHEAD OF US.

If Rain Had Not Prevented Yesterday's Game the Nationals Might Have Got There—The Acquisitions From Omaha—General Sporting News.

Rain prevented the game yesterday with the Cincinnati, and also prevented the Nationals from jumping out of tail-end. Freeman was down to pitch and the youngster was confident of winning the contest. As the Louisville lost to Boston, the Nationals were allowed to creep uncomfortably close to them in percentage. Monday's game will be watched with a great deal of interest, and should the Nationals win and Louisville lose there will be great rejoicing in the ranks of the local team and among its friends.

There are only three points separating the Nationals and Louisville now, and the prospects are in favor of the Nationals passing them on Monday, as the Louisville again play the Boston, while the Cincinnati will be here. Now, the Cincinnati have no license to defeat the Nationals, and if the home team plays properly they cannot do so.

The Deal With the Omaha Players.

It will be remembered that about a month ago THE HERALD announced that the National Club was negotiating with Manager and Captain Shannon, of the Omaha Club, to come here and take charge of the National team. The announcement came like a bombshell and THE HERALD was charged with publishing rumors that had no foundation in fact. Sequel: On Tuesday Manager Shannon, of Omaha, and four of his team, Pitcher Eiteljorg, Catcher Sutcliffe, and Fielders Halligan and Griffin left Omaha for this city for the purpose of uniting their forces with the National Club.

The deal is one of the biggest of the year. Its purpose, of course, was to insure better playing for the team and an improvement in their pennant position. It shows that the directors of the club seriously intend to infuse new life in the club whenever possible. The men secured are rated as among the best in the Western Association.

First and foremost is Shannon, who has been filling the position of manager, captain, and second baseman of the Omahas. He is a great infielder. His place is second base, but it is certain he will go to short field to support Hatfield, as Dowd is putting up too good a game to be molested. Eiteljorg, the next rated man, is a good pitcher, and his services have been in demand all the year by leading clubs. Baltimore, for instance, offers him a big sum to jump to them. He will make a big card for the local team. Halligan and Griffin are fielders of a high order, and will help things amazingly in the outer field along with Murphy. The records of the men engaged are as follows:

	Fielding.	Batting.
Shannon, 2 b.....	.934	.337
Halligan, rf.....	.920	.386
Sutcliffe, c.....	.939	.260
Griffin, cf.....	.948	.326
Eiteljorg, p.....	.939	.225

Of course the coming of this number of players will necessitate the release of some of the present team and already the pruning knife is getting in its work. Daily, the fielder, was released on Wednesday, as his work of late has been below the average. Kidd Miller also got his papers.

The New Players Coming.

To settle all five talk it may be stated for certain that the five players secured from the Omahas will all be here on Monday morning, and will appear in the contest that afternoon against the Cincinnati. Griffin and Halligan are already in this city. Shannon has come to his home in Bridgeport for a visit, while Sutcliffe laid over at his Illinois home to see his people. They will all be here Monday and will play.

Boston Shuts Out Louisville.

BOSTON, MASS., July 18.—Boston shut out Louisville to-day before a large crowd, attracted by the 25-cent admission, although it was very cloudy. It was a fine fielding game, but Boston did tremendous slugging. Fitzgerald, Boston's new find, made a good impression in the last three innings. Attendance, 4,723. Score:

Boston.....	3	1	0	3	1	0	0	0	—9

Mike Kelly in Washington.

BOSTON, July 18.—Mike Kelly was seen on the Boston Association grounds to-day and denied wholly all stories of the last few days about his withdrawing from the Cincinnati of the Association, saying that he intended to fill his contract to the end of the season. He did not go to Washington with his nine, because he was badly run down, had an injured hip, and was desirous of obtaining rest as well as to take a look at some New England men, who might be secured to strengthen his nine. He left for Washington by the midnight train.

Baseball Notes.

On Monday the Cincinnati are here again. President Kauko, of the Western Association, tion, is against the reinstatement of Raymond. Right.

The Louisvilles are in a very bad financial way.

The Western Association people are sawing wood.

Rain interfered with the games at Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Will Sutcliffe play first base? Is the query from the bleachers.

We are going to have a first-class team after all—and after awhile.

Alford is putting up a remarkable game at third for the home team.

Ehret says he jumped from Louisville because they released Cook.

"Idle Dog" will be the nickname for the new pitcher of the Nationals—Eiteljorg.

The press of the country is praising the diplomacy of the Nationals in securing the five Omaha players.

Gil Hatfield has the top record in the National ranks for base-stealing, some thirty-two standing opposite his name. Dowd is next, with twenty-five.

The Nationals played poor ball on Tuesday and Thursday, allowing the St. Louis and Cincinnati to win games that should have been credited as victories for themselves.

Remember, ladies, Tuesday is your day at the park. Make your big brothers, or somebody else's brother, take you out to see the sport. It is fashionable now for ladies to make up a party and go without the usual male escort.

The employees of the National grounds on Friday presented President Bennett with a fine gold-headed cane as a mark of esteem. The other directors, Messrs. Scanlon, Kallfus, and O'Donnell, are to be similarly treated during the season.

Kid Miller returned to the pitcher's box on Tuesday after an absence of several weeks. He pitched against the free-hitting St. Louis team, and they only secured seven hits off him. He was wild at times, but the players behind him were wilder and played in a reckless manner, as if they didn't care to support their pitcher.

Secretary of the Treasury Foster and a number of his friends are present in the upper circle whenever a game is played in which a club from Ohio is engaged. It is a merry party, and between the innings, while not engaged munching the double-jointed peanuts sold on the grounds, the able custodian of our finances amuses himself in making reckless bets of 5 and even 10 cents.

On Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday the Bostonians will be here to play the Nationals. These three contests will be the last played here until August 15, as the home team leaves this week on another Western trip. The Bostonians have had a sort of an easy thing this season in defeating the Nationals, as out of all the games played they have succeeded in winning all but one. Notwithstanding this prestige, the home team feel assured that they will win at least two of the games.

AMATEUR BASEBALL.

Boucher will probably play with the Y. M. C. A., if he gets his release from the Potomacs.

Billy Wise has been in constant training for two weeks. He says he will pitch better ball than ever before.

The Olympics, of West Washington, are playing strong ball and are in condition now to play the best of them.

The A. A. U. series starts out rather dampening, as rain has interfered with all the regularly scheduled games so far.

Johnston, the crack catcher of the Y. M. C. A., has returned to the city and is getting in trim for the championship series.

Wright, the new addition to the Columbia Athletics, is regarded as one of the finest amateur fielders that ever played in this city.

"King" Kelly, of the Potomacs, is organizing a team to go to Richmond to play the new team that has been organized in that city.

Phil King, of the C. A. C., has been playing third base for the strong Cape May team, and has been putting up a very clever game for that club.

Tommy Ellis, of the Potomacs, should have been secured by some one of the clubs in the A. A. U. He has no superior as a shortstop or second baseman.

On Wednesday next the Columbia Athletics will play the W. L. I. Corps their first game of the A. A. U. series. On Saturday they will meet the Y. M. C. A.

Harry Hauptman has been elected a member of the W. L. I. Corps, and will play left field for them in the A. A. U. series. He is the best fielder in this city in amateur circles.

The Y. M. C. A. has obtained a good set of amateurs to represent them in the A. A. U. contest, and they expect to make a much better showing than they did in the District League.

The Olympics defeated the Hyattsville at Hyattsville on Tuesday last for the third time this season; score, 9 to 2. The Olympics played the following team: Bernard, pitcher; Chamberlain, catcher; Keleher, first base; Hanlon, second base; Cassin, short-stop; Hodge, third base; Kleinschmidt, left-fielder; Burrows, center-fielder; Drew, right-fielder. For Hyattsville: Fuller, pitcher; Daly, catcher (both of C. A. C. team); Barrows, first base (of Y. M. C. A. team); Robertson, second base; Leakin, short-stop; Fowler, third base; Corwin, left-fielder; Smith, center-fielder; Brown, right-fielder.

Referred to Commissioner Robert.

The Commissioners had under advisement yesterday the plans of the engineer of the Washington and Georgetown Railroad Company. If the approval of the Commissioners can be obtained the road wishes to run the new tracks of the cable road for that branch which goes to the Baltimore and Ohio depot, through the parking which occupies the centre of C Street between First street and Indiana avenue. The discussion over this matter was a very lengthy one, and it was finally agreed to refer the matter to the Engineer Commissioner for his investigation.

A Delightful Barge Party.

An enjoyable barge and dancing party was given Friday evening from the Potomac boat-house. It was in charge of Messrs. Horsh and Norton. The party rowed up as far as the landing of the club and then returned to the clubhouse, where dancing was enjoyed until midnight. Among those present were Captain and Mrs. Zappone, Miss Graves, Miss Butterworth, Miss Johnson, Miss Williams, Miss Wright, Miss Cragin, Miss Marble, Miss Jackson, and Messrs. Norton, Butterworth, Canner, Brown, Averil, Bradley, Horsh, Phillips, and Dr. Exner and Cannon.

A LOSS TO THE COUNTRY.

The Designer of the Puritan Dies Before His Prime.

The triumphs of American yachts are inseparably bound up with the name of Edward Burgess, who died in Boston last week. He was the designer of the Puritan, the Mayflower, and the Volunteer, all of which defeated British yachts which came here in a vain attempt to wrest the Queen's cup, won by America in 1851, from the hands of its keepers. He was born 43 years ago in Sandwich, Barnstable County, Mass. His father was a wealthy merchant. Young Burgess entered Harvard and was graduated in 1871. His father soon after failed, and in 1873 Burgess returned to Harvard as instructor in entomology, in which science he was very proficient. He was fond of yachting and had a mathematical turn of mind, which in 1881 he applied to yacht building. His first success was the Puritan, which competed with the Priscilla before meeting the Britisher, the Genesta. The Puritan beat the Genesta first by 16 minutes 19 seconds, subsequently by 1 minute 38 seconds. In 1886 the Galatea made the attempt, but was quite unable to cope with the genius of Burgess as exhibited in the lines of the Mayflower. The Britisher shared the same fate against Burgess' Volunteer. No English yacht has since tried to take away the cup from us. There are now considerably over a hundred "Burgess boats" on Eastern waters. Mr. Burgess took up naval architecture as a profession and soon acquired a competency. From time to time he wrote pamphlets on entomological subjects. A great reception was given him at Faneuil Hall, Boston, October 7, 1887, by his fellow townsmen. A fund was raised and presented to him on this occasion. Mr. Burgess married Miss Sullivan, of Columbus, Ohio. She was considered very beautiful, and set for "Erato," the Goddess of Love, in the picture of the Nine Muses, which is now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York.

ATHLETICS AND ROWING.

The big National regatta is but one month distant.

The regatta committee commenced real work last week.

President G. M. Fague, of the Potomac Athletics, has been down to Piney Point for a week's rest.

Mason, of the Potomacs, believes he is a 10-15 man and is going to train for the hundred yards at Baltimore.

Dodge, the fast sprinter of the C. A. C.'s, is getting in shape for the A. A. U. meeting at Baltimore in September.

The Potomacs will give their third dancing hop on Friday evening next. A series of shell races will precede the dancing.

Professor Crosley, the instructor of the C. A. C., has returned from his vacation tour and the athletes are again commencing to congregate at the Island.

The regatta committee is again urged to do something in relation to bringing the Post and Star cups back here to the city, in order that our clubs might gain possession of them.

The junior eight of the Columbia Athletic Club is rowing in splendid shape and if they continue the good work they will surely make a good showing at the Staten Island regatta in September.

Captain Zappone, of the Potomacs, has received a very complimentary letter from the Passaic Navy, thanking him for the perfect manner in which he judged their races on Decoration Day.

Subscriptions have commenced to flood in for the regatta, and the committee feel somewhat encouraged at the prospect. If a combined effort was made by the committee it is believed that a sum sufficient to meet all expenses would be raised.

A gig crew, consisting of Dyer, stroke; Johnson, Baker, and Ryan, with Smith coxswain, is rowing daily from the Columbia house, and they are certainly pushing their boat through the water. They rowed finely together and it is about the best gig crew ever seen on the river.

One of the new men of the Potomacs who has just announced that he has had experience in shell rowing is Blair. He hails from Grand Rapids, Mich., and as a member of that club rowed in several winning crews. He will at once be put in trim for the National, though he has not rowed for three years.

The two new shells ordered from Waters & Son, of Troy, N. Y., for the Columbia Athletic Club, arrived on Friday and are now safely housed in their boathouse. Both craft, an eight and a four, are the latest models of racing boats and are supplied with all the latest designs in rig and steering apparatus. Captain Stinemetz and Lieutenant Ranier wrote to New York and superintended the transportation of the boats to this city. Courtney says they are the most perfect boats he has ever seen.

The Columbia Athletics are working their senior eight as if they intended putting them in at the National regatta, as the crew has not been on the water together once since the regatta at Baltimore on June 26. From the men in the Columbia house a strong and powerful eight could be produced that would reflect credit, even though they did not find first honors, on themselves and their club. The Columbia should by all means get their eight together and make them work for this regatta, as it is the one where every eye, aquatically inclined, will be turned. With such men as Dyer, Janus, Ryan, Baker, Johnson, Harban, Brewster, Crist, Simmons,

Elmore, and others in their ranks there is no reason why a fast eight could not be produced, especially with a trainer of Courtney's ability around to give assistance. It would seem queer to have the big National regatta come and go right here at our bidding without a representative crew from the justly famous Columbias.

The members of the local committee of the National regatta have received information showing there will be more entries in this regatta than in any previous one held by the National Association. The number of crews in the vicinity of New York that are training for the event is larger by half than ever before, and among these are the New York Athletics, Manhattan, Nassau, Atlanta, Nonpareils, Havenwoods, Metropolitans, Varunas, and Excelors. At Newark there are the Tritons, Passails, Institutes, and Eureka. If reports keep coming in as they have lately it is very likely that the eight will have to be rowed in heats, the first time in the history of the National Association. It is going to be a big affair.

While the Potomacs have been handicapped somewhat by the loss of some of their best rowing men of last season and also some of this year's who started in to train, among others Brack, Mills, and Young, that indefatigable worker, Captain Zappone, is sanguine he will enter an eight-oared crew in the National regatta. Among the men whom he will depend on will be Smithson, Robinson, Reynolds, Oertel, Blair, Finckel, McCoy, Oliver, Warden, Rohrer, and several prominent new men. It is the purpose of the Potomacs to enter an eight-oared crew in the race, not with any idea of winning, but solely to have Washington City properly represented in the affair. The men named above are working hard and for the next month will devote every spare hour to getting in condition.

Some curiosity has been expressed in aquatic circles this year over the sudden appearance of a phenomenal sculler in Philadelphia by the name of Hedley. He was unknown last year, but like a meteor he came forth this year as a member of the Vesper Club and has swept everything before him, with one exception. His wonderful success has led to inquiries as to his antecedents, and Judge Tighe, of the Varuna Club of Brooklyn, has learned enough to justify him in entering a protest against his future entrance in amateur races. It appears that some members of the Vesper Club discovered Hedley at the fishing shores, where he was following the fortune of a sailor's life, and noticing his aptness at the oars they induced him to come to their club and become a sculler. They secured him a position in the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and then fitted him out with rowing material. This is the burden of Judge Tighe's complaint, and which, if proven, renders Hedley ineligible to row as an amateur.

Working for the Regatta.

The local committee in charge of the National regatta held a meeting on Friday evening to hear reports from the various committees that are at work. From the several reports submitted the committee felt considerably encouraged. The subscription committee were very rosy in their report and claimed that if every member placed himself heart and soul in the work more than enough money would be secured to cover all expenses. A committee consisting of Messrs. Gibson, Zappone, and Grant were appointed to confer with the various hotels, etc., for rates. The contract for medals and banners have been given out and they will be here about August 10. On Tuesday the entire committee will survey the courses and try to adopt one for the regatta.

More Victories Won.

MANCHESTER, July 18.—The team representing the Manhattan Athletic Club, of New York, made its farewell appearance in this city to-day, previous to its departure for home. The Americans secured three of the events and a second place.

L. A. W. Championship Races.

DETROIT, Mich., July 18.—Owing to the bad condition of the track to-day in consequence of last night's rain the championship races of the League of American Wheelmen were indefinitely postponed.

A New Course Probable.

It is very probable that the course in the National regatta will be changed considerably from the one that has been in use since 1881. The old course commenced about a quarter of a mile above the Long Bridge and finished in a diagonal line off the Annapolis house. To avoid this crooked course the committee are now surveying one that will give them a straighter and much better place. Last week Messrs. Grant, Gibson, and Stinemetz, of the Columbias; Fair, of the Annapolis, and Trescott, of the Potomacs, went carefully over the river from the Long Bridge to Easy's Point, and the course that met with almost unanimous sanction was that which started just at the lower end of the draw of the Long Bridge. By taking a direct line up stream toward Easy's Point a perfectly straight mile-and-a-half course can be secured that will afford ample room for as many crews as the committee desire to start in the heats. If necessary twelve eights can start. This course would make the finish about one hundred yards below Easy's Point. As it would be almost directly alongside the new walls erected on the flats for the river improvements the proposed course would afford our people a better opportunity to see the various races than they have ever had. The reclaimed flats are now in condition to allow many thousands of people to assemble there in safety to see the end of the races, while for over a mile carriages and men on horseback can follow the crews in their work. It is unquestionably the best course in this vicinity, as it is free from eel grass, logs, and other obstructions, and has a depth of at least five feet of water for the entire distance. This course has not been finally selected, but it is the one most thought of.

"The Growlers" in Convention.

The Grand Lodge of the Growlers held its annual meeting at the Utah House, in New York City, on Friday, the 3d instant. Washington Lodge No. 2 was represented by Brother William F. Wolfe, Grand Chief Growler, and Brother T. M. Whitney, New York Lodge No. 1, Brooklyn Lodge No. 3, and Staten Island Lodge No. 4 also sent representatives. Brother Wolfe was re-elected Grand Chief Growler, but declined to serve, and Brother D. F. Powers, of Staten Island Lodge, was elected in his stead. T. M. Whitney, of Washington Lodge, was elected Deputy Grand Chief Growler, and P. M. Kelly, also of Washington Lodge, was elected Grand Limited Growler. Michael B. Scanlon was elected a trustee.

THE BAUM EXCURSION.

The Employees of Mr. Charles Baum Enjoy Themselves at Marshall Hall.

The employees of Mr. Charles Baum threw business cares to the winds on the evening of their annual excursion to Marshall Hall last week, and gave themselves up to the enjoyment of one of the most successful excursions of the season. Pretty souvenirs in the form of fans were distributed and thirty members of the Marine Band rendered in spirited style an attractive programme of music. The committee in charge, composed of Mr. J. W. Crampton, chairman; B. J. Phillips, B. A. Weiss, H. Baruch, N. Well, A. Kuntz, A. M. Frankle, and B. Buren, were unceasing in their efforts to make all their guests enjoy the evening.

A very interesting part of the programme was the presentation by Mr. Baum of a number of costly presents, a diamond pin, gold watch, silver watch, etc., to several of his employees who had served him faithfully for many years. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baum, Mr. and Mrs. R. Goldschmidt, Mrs. F. Frankle, Mr. A. Damman, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crampton, Mrs. J. E. Saylor, Mr. L. Baum, Mrs. J. W. GREEN GOODS SWINDLERS.

New Methods of the Gentlemen Who "Shove the Queer."

As a result of the vigorous war made on the green goods swindlers by the retiring Chief Inspector, Mr. Rathbone, these men have, it is said, abandoned the use of the mails for the conduct of their business and have recently issued "special instructions" to their patrons in which they announce the new method of doing business. These instructions direct correspondents never to say anything in their letters about the real nature of the business. A warning is then conveyed against any communications whatever to the green-goods seller by mail. "If you do," he adds, "I shall positively refuse to receive them, and in that event, they will go to the dead letter office and a United States marshal will soon be on your trail. Now if you care to avoid serious trouble, you had better take my advice and obey my instructions."

It is directed that all orders must be sent by express. The instructions close as follows: "Should you wish to come on and see me in order to make a face-to-face deal telegraph me when you leave home and say: 'All is well,' then buy a through ticket from your nearest large town to Philadelphia, Pa. When you arrive there select any hotel you wish, and telegraph me the name of same and the number of your room. You will then receive my immediate attention."

GOT HIS DESERTS.

Jandorf Given Five Years For His Treatment of His Young Wife.

Henry Jandorf, alias Henry Solomon, who was convicted June 17 of having violated the humane laws by placing his young wife in a house of ill-fame, was sentenced in the Criminal Court by Judge Bradley yesterday to five years in the Albany penitentiary and to pay a fine of $250.

Before sentence was passed Mr. Bendheim, for the defense, argued for a new trial, but Judge Bradley overruled the point. In doing so he said in his opinion the law was for the purpose of saving girls, not only those who had not gone astray, but those who had taken a misstep. It was immaterial whether her former character may have been, if the prisoner directly, or indirectly, placed or induced her to enter a house of prostitution he was amenable to the law.

They Are Meeting With Great Success.

The rapidity with which Messrs. Herron and Ramey are disposing of Brightwood Park lots is either an evidence of a brisk real estate market or a superior subdivision. Persons desiring a suburban home or an investment could not do better than to buy at Brightwood Park on account of its proximity to the Nation's Capital and one of the largest commercial cities in the United States (Baltimore), its healthy location, the easy terms on which lots can be bought and houses erected, and its excellent management. Already many cottages are in course of erection and are being built by our best citizens.

To Give Another Excursion.

The National Fencibles have decided to give another excursion August 27, owing to the numerous requests of their friends. The steamer Macalester and Professor Schroeder's orchestra have been engaged, and it is hoped this excursion will be as successful as their last.
